The 3-2-1 Series II was criticized for its performance with music and for lacking an HDMI connection but praised for its performance for movies. The 3-2-1 GSX model, which was released in 2005, included an internal hard drive for storing music. In 2008, the 3-2-1 Series III replaced the Series II and added an HDMI output connection.

The 3-2-1 was replaced by the "321 Series II" in 2004, which included two small speakers and a subwoofer. The 321 Series II was praised for its performance for movies, but was criticised for its performance with music and for lacking a HDMI connection. The 321 Series II GS had similar outcomes, however it was also criticised for value for money.

downwards into an acoustic deflector to spread sound 360 degrees from its ovalular chassis. This means you're getting uniform mono sound all the way round, which is a canny idea when you bear in mind the numerous speakers that have tried and failed to deliver cohesive 360-degree sound from multiple drivers.
